A 2222 2 Numb. 3763.

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, November 4. 1713.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Nov. 7.

Vienna, October 25.

LAST Sunday a ſolemn Proceſſion was made here by all the ſecular and regular Clergy, from the principal Church of the bareſooted Auguſtins to the Cathedral of St. Stephen; the Emperour aſſiſted at it, accompanied by the whole Court, the Tribunals, Nobility, States of the Province, Knights of the golden Fleece, foreign Miniſters, and a very great Crowd of People; the Standard and Relicks of St. Charles Borromeo, as alſo the miraculous Image of our Lady of Booz, were carried in this Proceſſion; to beg of Heaven through the Interceſſion of the Bleſſed Virgin and of St. Charles Borromeo, Deliverance from the contagious Diſtemper which rages in this City, and Bleſſings on the Counſels and Arms of his Imperial Majeſty. Maſs was ſaid in the Cathedral by the Prince our Biſhop; the Emperour received the Communion in Publick, from the Hands of that Prelate; ſo did all thoſe of his Retinue; and never was any Holy-Day celebrated here with more Solemnity and Devotion. Their Imperial Majeſties continue in perfect Health; and God be thanked the Mortality decreaſes more and more; ſo that the Nobility who had retired into the Country becauſe of the Diſtempers, begin to return hither. 'Tis adviſed from Buda the 21ſt of this Month, that the 19th the Regiment of Imperial Dragoons of Jergher had paſſed the Danube there, being returned from Catalonia, and going to Winter-Quarters in Upper Hungary.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Nov. 7.

Hamburg, Oct. 31. Laſt Week, from the 22d to the 28th of the Month inclusive, died in this City 445 Perſons, which is 173 leſs than the preceeding Week. The laſt Aſſembly of our Burghers took into Deliberation a Propoſition made on the Part of the Elector of Hanover, to place a Guard of Soldiers on the Grasbroek under the Command of a Corporal, to ſee that the Communication and Commerce between this City and his Dominions be managed with the proper Precautions and Reſtrictions; and the Counſellor Graſe notified at the ſame time to our Magiſtrates, that if this Demand of his Electoral Highneſs were agreed to, he would cauſe all the Ships which are ſtopped at a certain Place called the Hoop to be releaſed, on Condition that they fall down the Elbe by the Arm of that River which paſſes by Harbourg, and not by that which runs by this City: But it was reſolved by a Majority of Voices, not to conſent to this Demand, and rather to ſhut up the Gate of the City leading to the Grasbroek: In the mean while the Elector of Hanover has cauſed a Guard of 16 Men to be poſted in Morwerder, which is a Village within the Dependence of our four Bailliages. The 8th of next Month, our Deputies are to have a new Conference with his Electoral Highneſs's Miniſters; and 'tis hoped they will agree on Terms of Commerce, the rather becauſe the King of Pruſſia offers to furniſh this City with Proviſions, and to permit his Subjects to draw from hence Wine, Brandy, Groceries, Silks, and all Sorts of Metals.

Hague, Nov. 7. 'The Accounts we have 'from Germany of the extraordinary and 'ſurprizing Defence made by the Gover-'nour and Garriſon of Fribourg, makes it 'almoſt all the Subject of Converſation here. 'Tis argued, that the vigorous Reſiſtance 'which that Place makes, has very much 'perplexed the Meaſures which the French 'had taken for penetrating this Campaign 'into Germany, with Deſign to make them-'ſelves Amends for the immenſe Charge 'they have been at to carry on the War this 'Year, by the exorbitant Contributions 'they propoſed to raiſe, by which and by 'the mercileſs Deſolation that their Arms 'were to have carried into the Heart of the 'Empire, France ſeems to have reckoned to

'make an End of the War this Winter, and 'to force the Emperour and Empire to accept a Peace even more disadvantageous 'and dishonourable than she had yet offered 'them. Be this as it will, 'tis certain 'the Sieges of Landau and Fribourg have 'given new Lustre to the German Arms, 'France having formerly been used to take 'their Towns on much more easy Terms, 'for want of their being sufficiently provided with proper Meaps of Defence, which 'the present Emperour from his own Experience in Barcelona and by his Vigilance 'and Application has taken Care to remedy. 'The Advices from the Camp at Muhlberg 'relate among other things, that the Besiegers of Fribourg finished the Breach in 'the Body of the Place the 27th of October, but when thy were working on Galleries to pass the Ditch, they were surprized to see it suddenly filled with Water, 'the rather because they could not discover 'any Sluce that let it in: So that they knew 'not when to reckon to be Masters of the 'Place, which before they made sure Account they should have the 28th of October 'by a general Assault or by Capitulation. 'Prince Eugene was about to draw together 'all his Troops near Villingen, to form one 'Body of an Army of them; and 'twas believed his Design is to make a firm Stand 'against all the Forces of the Enemy, after 'the taking of Fribourg, if they should offer to force the Passages or to undertake 'the Siege of Villingen; which is all that 'can be done this Year with the few Troops 'he has in Comparison of the Enemies. 'There was a Rumour in the Camp at Muhlberg, that General Harrasch Governour of 'Fribourg was killed, but it required Confirmation.
